ICE CREAM.

My Ico Cream Manufactory, one of the largest in Virginia, still continues to supply private customers, Sunday schools, excursions, pienics, fairs, festivals and associations, as well as the trade, with that SUPERIOR CREAM that has made a name in this community, and is known everywhere as BRENGLE'S ICE CREAM. I could easily reduce its price by lowering its quality, but good cream, of fresh, pure, wholesome ingredients, cannot be furnished at a less price than I serve it. Of course, I could "grade my cream by the price," but my cream would lose the good name that years of fair dealing have wen for it. I ask that persons abroad ordering "Brengie's Cream" from third parties will assure themselves that the cream sent is certainly sure themselves that the cream sent is certainly from my establishment. I warrant my cream, and do not wish that inferior cream, sent out as mine, may injure its reputation. It is my aim to furnish the BEST CREAM IN AMERICA, and my customers are satisfied that I do so. EENRY BRENGLE.

DEAN STANLEY ON GOOD DEEDS .- The weary travellar in the south of Spain, who, after passing many an arid plain and many a bare hill, finds himself at hightfall under the heights of Granada, will hear plashing and rippling, under the shade of the spreading trees and along the side of the dusty road, the grateful murmur of ranning waters, of streamlets, whose sweet music mingles with his dreams as he sleeps, and meets his ear as the first pleasant voice in the stillness of the early days. What is it? It is the sound of the unigating rivulets called into existence by the Meanish occupants of Granada five conturies igo, which, amidst all the changes of race and religion, have never ceased to flow. Their curpire has fallen, their creed has been suppressed by fire and sword, their nation has been driven from the shores of Spain, and their palae's crumble into ruins; but this trace of their beneficial civilization still continues, and in this continuity that which was good, and wise, and generous in that gifted but un-happy race still lives on to cheer and refresh

Private letters which have just been received from San Actonia, the headquarters of P. & T. Collins, the contractors for building the Madeira and Mamora Railroad, state that there is much suffering among the hands which left this city. Malarial fever is raging, and food of a proper character and medicine are not to be had. At one time over fitty per cent, of the entire force were unable to work, and desertions and deaths were frequent. Every one in camp appears to be hoping for an opportunity to got away, and the laborers and trackmen have lost all hope. Notwithstanding these drawbacks the work is being pushed more vigoronely than could be expected, and on August 1, the date the colony was last heard from, four miles of the difficult work had been completed and over two miles of rails laid.
